Alexia Perez-Guzman listens to music to keep focus while working on her computer.

India Verdejo works with Ms. Costa on an online assignment.

Katrina Torres and Zachary Martin work hard in Ms. Sylvia's Precalculus class on their assignments. "Going to the secret bonfire with the previous seniors and my friends was my favorite memory as there was music, s'mores, and it was a good night," says Torres.

15 blinks in a minute

20,000 blinks in a day

140,000 blinks in a week

560,000 blinks in a month

6,720,000 blinks in a year

26,880,000 blinks in high school

For a moment, it all stands still.
If you're not careful, you'll miss it.

Making mock ecosystems in AP Environmental with Junior Maxine Duarte, Ricardo Alvira leads the project. "One thing I like most about high school is that its ever changing; every year I get to become a new person and I was able to watch myself mature over the years," says Alvira.

In the blink of an eye

Do you feel as though high school has gone by in the blink of an eye? While we have spent four years at New Bedford High, it may seem like high school went by too fast. We all remember wishing for high school to be over when we were overwhelmed with school work, but now that senior year has arrived, some may wish they could turn back the clocks. Joseph Martin says, "I would describe high school as stressful but fun," and high school has certainly been a combination of those two.

Certain moments stand still in our minds and are frozen in time, like that championship swim meet or promposal. For Avant Cortes, his most memorable moments were "special olympics and the military ball." Our journeys to senior year were all very different but we all will achieve the same goal: graduation. Throughout our high school career, we were sure to keep our eye on the prize and persevere on the path to graduation.

We all share one thing, which is our Whaler pride. The class of 2020 has brought school spirit back to life and created a strong Whaler community that supports one another and celebrates diversity.

Don't turn a blind eye to your high school memories, because in all the highs and lows, we all grew. Juleany Morales-Sanchez "loved high school because of the friends I made and the new cultures I was introduced to." The friendships we made will not go away as high school will and be sure to not let them fade from view. It might have passed quickly at times and slowly at others, but now that we've arrived, take the time to enjoy it.

Michael Maric paints his 3D model happily in Mrs. Boucher's 3 Dimensional Art class.

Samari Ramirez plays "Mexican Hat Dance" in Mr. Mason's piano class.

Stacylina Teixeira works on her computer in Ms. Costa's English class. Teixeira says she would describe high school "as an obstacle you have to overcome."

Showing enthusiasm and positivity in Ms. Costa's English class, Bryanna Barboza, Miah Poindexter, and Janixa Matos show excitement to learn.

Nathan Santos and photography teacher Mr. Poyant observe a snapshot Nathan took in the auditorium. "I came to high school for that diploma," says Santos.

1.

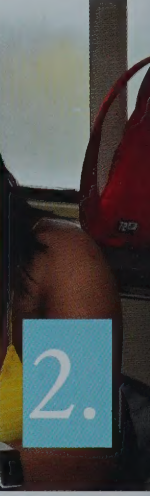

It all happens in a snap!

Alexis Maldonado favorite social media app is Instagram. Maldonado says, "I like Instagram because of the memes."

Juvensky Saint-Louis describes social media as a way to "take my mind off of things and you see things that'll make you laugh."

Jayden Spooner spends about "three hours" a day on social media.

Intrigued in Ms. Laberge's painting class, Andrea Castillo Contreras says "I love using water colors!"

Alberto Ramos looks concentrated in Mr. Schuyler's robotics class, a class he finds "challenging yet fun to be working with robotics."

1. Olimpia Andrade, Sabrina Amaral, and Chloe Morgado work in Mrs. Sengupta's AP Statistics class. On the class, Andrade explains that, "It's hard to interpret things, but once you do it becomes easier."
2. Tyler Rozario keeps a straight face as he listens in class. When reflecting on high school, Rozario asserts that, "The only obstacle in class and in life is yourself."
3. Typing, writing, and listening, Issac Tavares, Kree Pragana, and Marcio Valente are all occupied in Mr. Nickersons's English 12 class. Tavares explains that he likes the class because it's "neither hard or easy."

Your True Colors

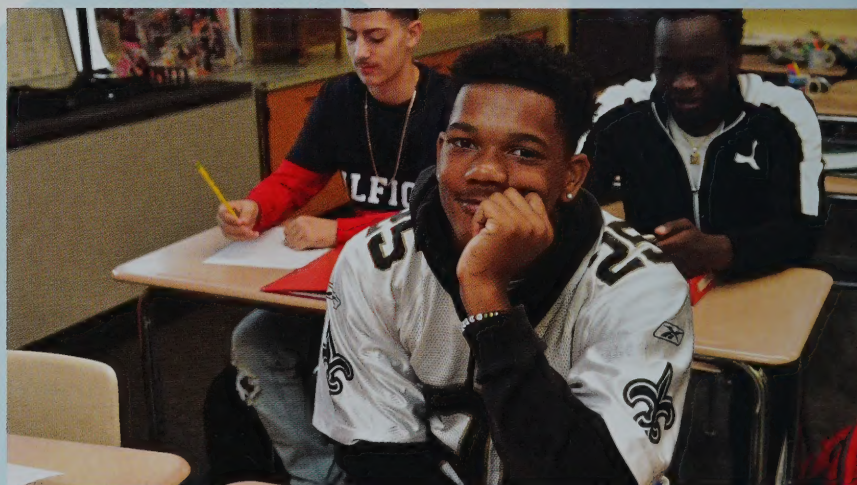

Nevach Ribeiro is invested in her classwork as she listens to music to help her focus.

Eric Leca is practicing a new song in piano class and is focused on playing the right notes.

Jimmy Rivas Alfaro and Yolanda Gutierrez Guarcas work on their English assignment. Rivas Alfaro says, "I love English class because I like learning new words."

Austin Velho is working hard to perfect his art project. He is displaying his imagination on a 3-D "A" that he is painting in art class.

Kiara Arita-Morales has a smile on her face as she pours her creativity into her painting project. Arita-Morales said the colors "reminded me of sunsets. I like sunsets and the sky in general and think it always looks really pretty."

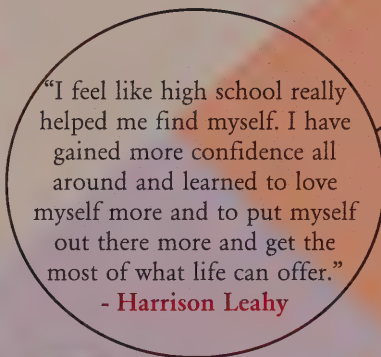

Shahid Barros pays close attention to Ms. Lizotte's English lesson. He says his favorite color is "red because it brings out Whaler culture and represents my school pride."

Which of your True Colors Emerged in High School?

"I learned that I like a lot in America because it is different from my country, Ukraine. I like having the freedom to dress up and show my uniqueness while seeing the diversity around me."

- Anna Amirkhanian

"I feel like high school really helped me find myself. I have gained more confidence all around and learned to love myself more and to put myself out there more and get the most of what life can offer."

- Harrison Leahy

"I discovered that I liked learning new languages such as Portuguese and love that I have been able to communicate with people from other cultures. I realized that I want to pursue a career in anesthesiology."

- Esmeralda Barea Velez

I Wish...

"In the blink of an eye" years pass by; for the class of 2020, our high school years are coming to and end. No matter if it's our past or present selves, every one of us has wishes for the future.

"I wish to help people who are struggling recognize their passion."

Cassandra Bergantini

"I wish to have 50 wives and 50 mansions."

Nyel Gaudencio

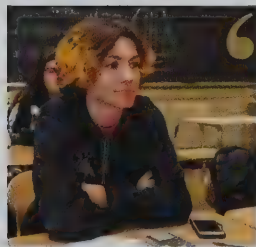

"I wish to live in Seattle in ten years."

Xeidu Tamup

Deep in thought, Alia Verissimo-Barboza tunes into class discussion

A GENIE GRANTS YOU THREE WISHES, WHAT ARE THEY?

William Greene

A mansion, the ability to play every instrument, and to read people's minds.

Kelvin Tirado

More money, a better car, and a house.

Practicing the xylophone, Nichole Pereira definitely impressed students walking through tan house doors.

While in Ms. Leberge's class, Yousef Ahmed looks deep in thought, potentially thinking about what he wishes for in life. "I wish to make people around me laugh," says Yousef.

What is your 11:11 wish?

Mario Guerrero
Martinez

"To be the best version of myself."

Jakob Braz

"For my life not to be a mess."

Engaged in Ms. Leberge's instruction, Hector Jimon de la Cruz waits before beginning his painting.

Participating in a socratic seminar, Thaliah Barros listens to other students express their ideas in Mr. Nagayoshi's AP Literature class.

Occupied with her TI-84, Yireliz Valentin is hard at work in Mrs. Sengupta's statistic class.

Can't Stop the feeling

It was a night full of treasured moments and emotions as the class of 2020 celebrated the closing chapter of their Junior year at Waypoint Event Center on May 10, 2019. The Juniors were introduced to a beautiful atmosphere and were captured through the fantastic photos of photographer Mr. Mare as they entered the dance. It was a time where the class of 2020 united and partied as they collectively acknowledged the hardworking three years that lead them to this new chapter within their lives. "The memories we shared that night are memories I'll never forget. I'm so happy that we were the class to bring back junior banquet, I don't take back a second of that astounding experience," says Raina Grace.

It was night full of old and new. They spent time with new and old friends. They danced to songs from every era. "My favorite throwback song of the night was "Kiss Me Thru the Phone." It felt great to have everyone singing it and having fun

"I'm so happy that we were the class to bring back junior banquet."

- Raina Grace

to a song that we grew up listening to," says Bonnie Morgan. The night brought back old memories but created new ones that will last a lifetime because every time that you hear that favorite song, you will find yourself reminiscing about the good memories that took place at Junior banquet.

Although it was a night that sparked joy and lots of dancing, there was some amount of sadness too. "Junior Banquet was a bittersweet moment; it was upsetting to know that it would be the last major school event of Junior year, but I'm glad that I was able to spend it with my friends and have a good time," said Siera Barbosa.

By: Marissa Sebastiao

Not shy on the dance floor, Kendra Himes extends her arm for a solo move in her elegant emerald green dress. "All around it was positive vibes and energy. It was definitely a lifetime experience," said Himes.

Zachary Bogdon, Lydia Perez, and Alberto Ramos fill their plates with cheeseburger sliders and fries from the offered buffet. "Junior Banquet was such a great time making memories and hanging out with the people I enjoy the most," says Bogdon.

1. Couple Aliza Muniz and Kobe Fonseca arrive in classy black and white coordinating attire.
2. Enthusiastic during a song, Brooklynn Perez, Cleise Macedo, Aexisya Medina, and Erica Nunez all join each other in a dance circle.
3. Excited to enter the dance, Samari Ramirez, Siera Barbosa, Alyssa Adams, and Raina Grace are enjoying times with their friends.

Reserving their table and waiting for the party to start, Devin Moreira, Jacelina Goncalves, Nelsi Molina, Glenda Coreas, and Juan Ixcuna smile for the camera.

“It was an awesome time with awesome people. My favorite song to dance to was “Old Town Road” because me and the boys just went crazy. Even though there was no award for best dancer, I think it’s pretty clear it was me...”

- Ty Spencer

What did you think about your banquet date?

"We had a great time together, Ali looked gorgeous and was the best dance partner"
- Adam Bentley on Alison Baptista

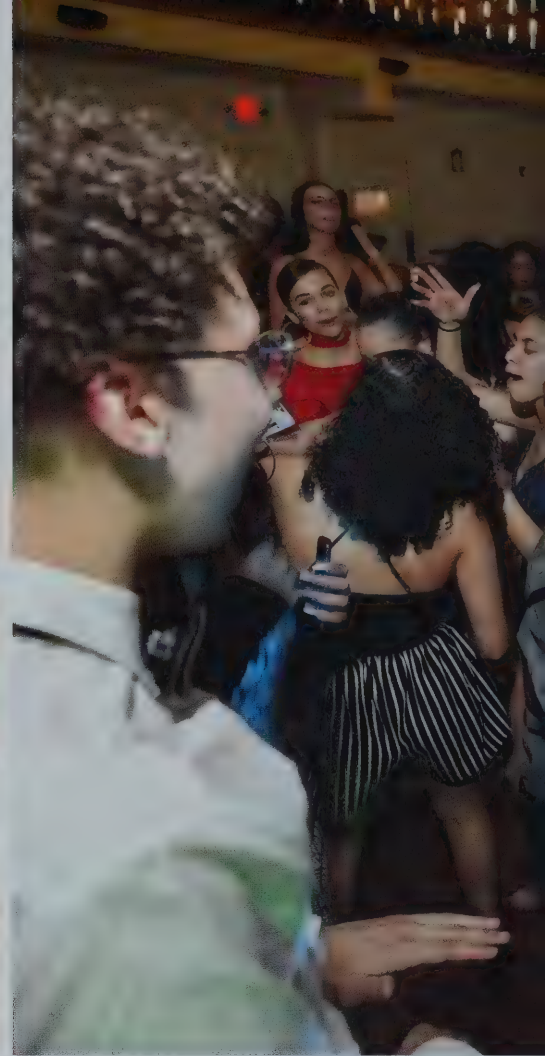

"It was a special night for the both of us, a night I could never forget."
- Elijah Ribeiro on Olimpia Andrade

"I enjoyed the music, the setting, and getting to dance with the one I love."
- Devin Moreira on Jacelina Goncalves

Looking stunning in their beautiful dresses, Ana Curry,
Madisyn Baggs, Alison
Baptista, Katherine Papas, and Glenda Coreas pose outside of the ballroom.

Ethan Demelo, Cameron Sylvia and Owen Tarpey seat themselves together before beginning the night by dining. "Junior Banquet was a really fun time with a lot of great friends. We had fun dancing and hanging out," Tarpey says.

The class of 2020 celebrate their year by gathering on the dance floor to sing their hearts out and dance, dance, dance.

Clearly excited by the buffet choices, Tyrek Williams makes his way back to his table to dine.

In the center of the dance circle, Essiah Marcial hypes up the crowd debuting his awesome dance moves. "I was born to dance," says Marcial.

"Now kick! Now kick! Now kick! Now kick!" Glenda Coreas, Nevaeh Confar and Alyssa Adams lead the Cupid Shuffle on the dance floor.

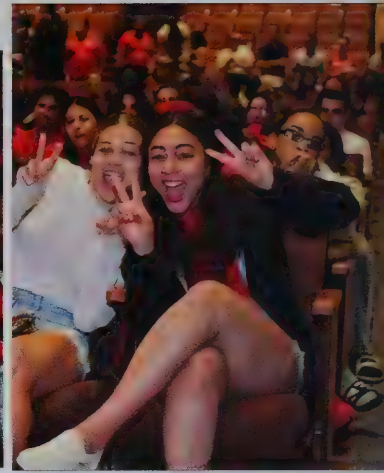

Madisyn Baggs, Thaliah Barros, Ty Spencer, and peers showing how they get down dancing to "Wobble Baby."

class of 20

Morgan Correia and Corelys Santiago Cruz excitedly throw up peace signs while waiting for the passing.

In the front rows of the auditorium, students file in wearing their red and white. Ethan Medeiros says "I felt the energy in the room was a cool vibe and I could tell everyone was excited"

Junior class officers Destiny Maldonado and Sabrina Amaral join Junior and Senior class president Jacelina Goncalves, as they accepted the senior class whale on stage with big smiles.

H A Whale of a Time

Here we are sitting in the same place that we sat Freshman year, amazed by how fast three years have gone by. June 14 was the last day of our Junior year and it was raining outside, but the depressing atmosphere outside could not compare with the feeling of excitement that the auditorium was filled with inside as we waited for the whale that declared us as seniors.

The Passing of the Whale was an event full of a variety of emotions, "It was a heartwarming but an emotional time because it was my last year doing this event after doing it for three years straight," said cheerleader Nevaeh Confar.

It all started with an exciting speech from the 2020 president Jacelina Goncalves as "she promised us that she would make our Senior year the most memorable one." The mic was then handed to our very spirited class principle Mrs. Rezendes, who was wearing her funny 2020 glasses as she hyped the audience of soon to be seniors. The

"It was heartwarming but emotional."
- Nevaeh Confar

2019 class president Victoria Knox then delivered the whale to the 2020 officers. The bottled-up enthusiasm was finally released as all screamed 2020. and the camera lights from students' phones captured the moment in all its significance. We had finally made it to our final year of high school.

Cheering with Whaler pride, Nevaeh Confar does a high kick as part of the cheer routine.

Class advisors Mr. Mare and Ms. DaSilva getting the new senior class excited about an eventful year approaching, sharing their ideas on making this year memorable.

The crowd of rising Seniors eagerly awaits the start of the ceremony.

Class principal Mrs. Rezendes and guidance counselor Ms. Bardin pose as their usual "looks." Mrs. Rezendes said, "It was nice to watch the kids grow, now they're the leaders of the school."

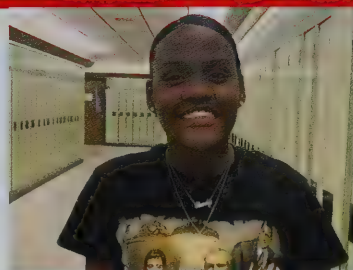

What are you most looking forward to for senior year?

Jovona Phillips: "Walking across the stage and receiving my diploma."

Michael Diaz: "Homecoming"

Florendy Severino Castro: "Graduating!"

Austin Farr: "The wrestling season"

Keeping an EYE out

They keep an eye out for us when no one thinks they are looking. They go way beyond the requirements that come with their job as they keep the vision of our future a reality. They observe and acknowledge our mistakes but never turn a blind eye to them. The NBHS faculty and staff have watched out for us these past four years.

They present their knowledge to us as they are hopeful that they can influence us in ways that shape us into conscious individuals. When asked about his favorite aspect of his job teacher Mr. Aguiar stated, "The best part of my job would probably just be being a role model to the students and maybe sharing some of my personal experiences. It feels good to be a leader for the youth that's my favorite part of my job."

They are more than meets the eye, and they become influential people within our lives and seek the talent within us. "The teacher that's been a big part of my four years here would be my programming teacher Mr. Acevedo. He's basically helped

"Mr. Acevedo's basically helped me pick a career that I wanted to be, which was programming."
- Christopher Villard

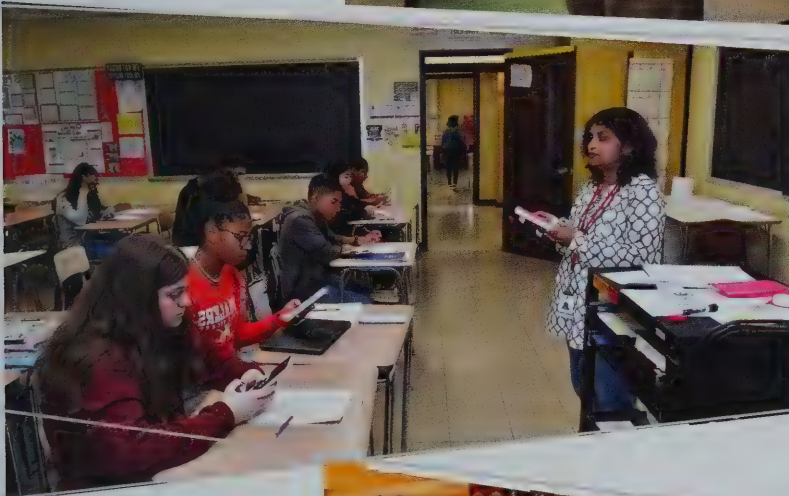

me pick a career that I wanted to be in which was programming and more so computer science. When I first started I pretty much didn't like it but he helped me understand it more and made me more encouraged into believing that I could actually complete the job," said Christopher Villard.

They provide insight as they teach us the necessities needed for a successful future and are aware of the fears and doubts within us. Especially when we are encountering something new, they do their best to make us comfortable and administer the best advice possible; "When I first came here, I had transferred halfway through my freshman year and everything was new, but my guidance counselor Ms. Kouta was the one that told me that I should keep being me and that no matter what I have to believe in myself cause that is the most important thing in the world," said Norman Harris.

HEADMASTER LETTER

To the Class of 2020,

Congratulations on your accomplishments. As you reflect on your four years at New Bedford High School, think about what it took to make it to graduation. You have shown determination and perseverance and leave with the skills necessary to succeed in your next endeavor! Many of you will pursue further education; others will represent our nation in one of the branches of the military, while some will begin careers in the workforce having left New Bedford High School with certifications through one of our National Academy Foundations. Wherever the road takes you, go with confidence. Remember to live by your school's core values: responsibility, respect, determination, pride and creativity and above all, always be kind.

I wish you happiness and great success and I thank you for your contributions to our school community. You will forever be a member of the New Bedford High School Whaler family.

All eyes on Me

Our perspective changes in a blink of an eye. One minute we are carefree freshmen and the next we are sensible seniors. We are constantly evolving as individuals and as a class.

This Senior class was determined to make their class a memorable one, as they brought back events that have been neglected and create outlets for school spirit to be at its prime. The Whaler Wave is a student fan group that was created by seniors Owen Tarpey and Kelsey Rezendes as they are trying to restore school spirit that has been lacking, "Me and Kelsey saw a lack of school spirit and wanted to do our part to improve that, which motivated us to make the page," said Tarpey.

The seniors have a responsibility as leaders of the school to ensure that the school pride is at its highest potential. "Owen and I created the Whaler Wave in hopes of bringing back the crazy school spirit that used to exist here. We hoped to gain a better sense of support for one another's extracurriculars, said Rezendes.

High school is about finding yourself and learning about the type of person you are as you embrace mistakes and strive for making a better version of yourself. "A lesson that I have learned from high school is to be friends with everyone you can. It doesn't matter what a person looks like, or what they do in their spare time. They will always have something good to offer you if you look for it with even the tiniest effort. Disregarding a person just because of their cover may be disregarding eventual blessings," said Yash Patel. Throughout life, you will find yourself focusing on your regrets but with every regret is a new perspective of looking at it. Have no regrets, every decision you make is a chance to learn something from it. Don't live your life thinking what if?

I spy with my Little Eye

A bunch of bright young kids with endless potential! Everyone looks back at their childhood with wonder. Wonder at how they look so different, and wonder at how much time has passed by and all the memories they created throughout it. It's amazing how one day we are little kids, playing games and hoping Santa didn't give you a sweater again this year, and the next we are all young adults, applying to colleges and hoping Santa got you that sweater and pair of socks you've wanted for ages.

Although many things about us change over the years, some habits die hard, which is certainly true for Ashley Cowles. "I still can't sleep properly if my room is messy," says Cowles. This doesn't mean we don't undergo change though. Cowles says "It feels like I'm an entirely different person. Different mind, mindset, and a completely different process of making decisions." All things considered there is one big question to ask, what was our favorite part of it all?

Everyone has favorite parts of their childhood, whether it be those hide - and - seek games outside or killing it

"It felt like everyday was a new adventure."
- Tiago Boia

on those minute math tests in elementary school. For Tiago Boia, this was no exception. "My favorite thing was all of the directions I could go in, thinking I could draw today or play sports," says Boia. The possibilities that accompany our childhoods is what made every minute of free time after school so special, "The fact that you could do whatever you wanted, it felt like everyday was a new adventure," concludes Boia.

Letter from Class Advisors

To the Class of 2020,

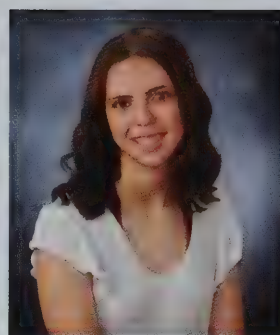

Over these past four years, you have overcome obstacles and shared experiences that will shape you for the rest of your life. As moments come to an end, yours is about to begin. Although all of you will follow different paths, you will always share this time together in common. Every day is the first day of your life and you should live it that way. Be creative, take risks and do not ever be afraid to step out of your comfort zone. Embrace your differences and do not let others define you. Be strong, confident and brave but always remember to be humble. Always advocate for what is right and remain a light in the darkness. You have all contributed to this school in many ways and your legacy has played a part in its continued success. Your big hearts and curious minds will always have a place at NBHS. Good luck in all your future plans and in the words of Bob Marley, "In this bright future, you can't forget your past!"

Sports in team

With the athletics department being the pinnacle of Whaler pride, it's no wonder these athletes give it their all every time they get into uniform. At NBHS, the players have the support of others on their team, as well as the support of the whole Whaler community.

Wearing red and white on the field comes with great effort and with this, great friendships to be made, which is certainly shown by one of New Bedford High's senior Baseball players, Eric Leca. "My favorite part about being a part of New Bedford High's Athletics team is the brotherhood and comradery that is formed between players and coaches," said Leca.

But the love doesn't stop there. With New Bedford High School being home to a variety of sports, there is plenty of room for students to find their place, and when paired great feats.

Samari

Ramirez, one of the girls Field Hockey team's great captains, certainly loves

"The athletics department is very rewarding and it has helped boost me as a person."
- Elijah Ribeiro

this aspect of New Bedford High. "After two struggling seasons and other teams seeing us as an easy win, it was absolutely insane to be the first SEC champs and to have a 17-1 season." says Ramirez.

Their time at NBHS might be speeding by, coming to a near close, but the lessons they learned on these teams will last. Elijah Ribeiro, a valued member of the boys basketball team says, "The athletics department is very rewarding and it has helped boost me as a person in working well with others, pushing through and past my limits, and taking pride in always being a better individual." Ultimately, athletics at NBHS is a family that supports one another and pushes all athletes to be the best version of themselves.

This year's Whaler football team is one of the most hardworking and talented groups of players that New Bedford High School has seen. Not having the hype for "Friday night lights" this year due to the Triple E threat didn't seem to stop the guys. Whether it was over the summer, in the weight room, or on the field, the Whalers always put in 110%. The team's hard work truly paid off, finishing the regular season nearly undefeated with a record of 6-1.

The team works together as one. Everyone plays an important role; whether one plays offense, defense, or both, every player adds to the team's success. "Being a Whaler means being a part of something bigger than yourself, the school, your team, club, etc. and working hard to to be the best part of that group you can," according to senior and team manager, Owen Tarpey. Even to new Whalers on the team, the guys were very welcoming, including them as part of their family. A new addition to the team, Oshaun Brooks transferred to NBHS his senior year to finish his high school football career with our exceptional team. "They're like my brothers. I feel like I've been here all four years," says Brooks.

Starting the season off with "hell week" in the extremely hot August heat, the guys trusted their coaches and "the process." Throughout the season a set schedule was followed: film and weight room twice a week and sweaty practices for the rest of the week except for Sundays. "Our work throughout the week made us more prepared, confident, and strong going into games," says captain

Anton Scurry. "Our coaches push us every snap to be the best player we can be," says David Abolarinwa. But being a member of the football team means more than just going to practices and games, it's being a part of a family.

Going the Distance

Girls Cross Country

Just a little further and the race is finished. Cross country is a sport of resilience that requires the athletes to push themselves beyond their limits to finish the race and achieve their goals. This season was filled with personal records, first place finishes, and cheering making it a time to remember. While being on the team everyone has had shin splints, sore muscles, and knee pain, but these whalers don't let that stop them from running. Senior Amanda Braga says "this team made strides this season."

Captains Taylor Pimentel and Katherine Papas are the first ever NBHS cross country members to have been on the team for five years because they began their journey as runners in eighth grade. Pimentel reflects on her five years saying "it's very bittersweet to be done with my high school cross country career," but Pimentel learned that "You just have to focus on your independent drive to do better for you and your team." Certain memories stick out like when the girls posed for a picture at Twilight Invitational and all fell backwards knocking over the fence during a race. Moments like these are what makes these girls more than athletes but family.

As the seniors say goodbye they will cherish the amazing memories they have. Junior Nadia Aboushanab will really miss them as she says "they went above and beyond to ensure everyone was participating no matter their level and it won't be the same without them." From inner squad meets to distance runs to track workouts, the girls worked hard despite setbacks and that perseverance will remain in them always.

Finish

Boys Cross Country

The boys cross country team crossed their last finish line of the year on October 23. For captain Derek Arribada and teammates Mario Guerrero Martinez and Luis Jackson De Luna, it was the finish line that ended their high school cross country careers. This season for the boys contained great wins, especially their win against Southeast Conference opponent, Durfee. Finding their own individual paces and strengths, each of the boys achieved their own goals, which is surely something to be proud of. For Derek Arribada, he's inspired by his family.

Although Senior year was his first year running cross country, Mario Guerrero Martinez didn't disappoint. He was the third best runner on the team and placed third against 70 people at a meet. As talented as he was, he was a relaxed athlete. "Nervous? No, I don't get nervous," says Martinez.

Taylor Pimentel from the girls cross country team shared, "From the moment he joined the team he fit in well, he was funny, a really good teammate, and shocked everyone with his talent."

Luis Jackson De Luna,

another first year Senior runner, left his mark on the team as well. Being a new runner, De Luna overcame obstacles that came with the new sport, "I worked hard and was patient," he says. He was liked by his teammates and often had them laughing. The seniors will take what they have learned and the memories they've made and continue running into the future.

Rushing out of the net to stop the ball, goalie Gabriela Serra plays with nothing but passion in every game. She says "You feel a sense of pride as a Whaler. Once a whaler, always a Whaler."

Olimpia Andrade runs towards the goal filled with determination and exclaims that "None of us thought we could go 17-1, but we did. We did amazing."

Kelsey Rezendes sprints down the field dribbling to victory. She says winning the Southeastern Conference "was a testament to our hard work all season."

Samari Ramirez fights for the ball in one of the hardest games of the season against Dartmouth.

Field Hockey

Nearly undefeated, the field hockey team persevered throughout the season and worked towards winning the title of the first ever Southeast Conference champions. Their season was filled with accomplishments: they went from having a record of 2-16 just two years ago to 17-1 this year. The Whaler field hockey team is all about exceeding expectations and being the best version of themselves. Captain and goalie Gabriela Serra set a goal "to get at least 5 shutouts and I exceeded that with a total of 13 shutouts this season."

The field hockey team was very young a few years ago, but the team has grown tremendously as a result of the hard work they all put forth daily. Many of the girls have never played the sport until high school, like Siera Barbosa. Barbosa said field hockey was "something new and outside of my comfort zone."

To become such a strong winning team took hard work on and off the field. These girls truly exemplify what can be accomplished if you are determined, set goals, and work very hard.

as the girls built a strong family. Captain Kelsey Rezendes has grown up around field hockey and describes her last season as "a sad goodbye but I couldn't be any happier about the season we had and the memories will last forever." Memories of team spaghetti dinner nights and sleepovers will remain in their minds as they look back and reflect on their incredible comeback season. As the girls always said "#BMFHCBBD."

Karen Ramos Martinez kicks the ball down field to help the team.

Stacylina Teixeira races down the soccer field to beat her opponent to the ball. The Whalers fought hard this season, one of their toughest games, according to Teixeira was, "Brockton, their defense was really good and had good team communication."

Captain and senior, Samantha Penacho runs down the field, keeping her eye on the ball, ready to make a play. Penacho transferred from Durfee and one of her first experiences at New Bedford High School was through playing soccer, "it meant a lot being welcomed and accepted as a Whaler."

Avree Roderick, the Whalers' goalie, saves the ball from the opposing team.

Girls Soccer

This year's girls soccer team, led by seniors Karen Ramos Martinez, Stacylina Teixeira, and Samantha Penacho, left everything on the field. They played every game with heart and gave it their all to create an overall memorable season for the girls.

Through wins and losses, the girls remained a loving and positive team. "I stayed focused both mentally and physically all the time and remained positive that we would win," said Ramos Martinez.

For these seniors, being a part of the team is more than just playing soccer, it's being a part of a family and setting an example as a leader. "Being an athlete pushed me to be an example to my family and friends, it made me want to show them that it is possible to be a student and athlete at once," stated Teixeira. The soccer team was not only passionate about their sport, they bring their drive and determination into the classroom as well and set an example for the school as a whole.

Even though the season has come to an end, the memories that the girls share are forever. From bus rides home to team bondings, the girls soccer team became a family. To captain Penacho, "It is a bittersweet feeling, I will miss the team bondings and being a part of the team, but I am ready to move on to college." Soccer has been an important part of these girls' high school career and has helped prepare them for their futures. After a season of hard work, the girls can say that they had an exciting run and will forever cherish their soccer memories.

hether they began playing as children, or they picked it up in high school, soccer is more than a sport for these boys. Soccer is a life style; a passion. Through hard work, dedication, and commitment to their sport and to each other, the boys soccer team has been met with much success.

Throughout the years, the boys soccer team has proudly worn the NBHS logo representing the school and their team as they show what it means to be a whaler. "It means everything; carrying the NBHS logo on our chest is an honor." stated Rodrigo Menaia De Freitas. To captain Ethan Demelo "being a Whaler means to give my best always in order to represent our school to give the people a reason to celebrate and come together," stated Demelo.

Being on the soccer team is more than just being a whaler. Its also about the memories, the games, and the hardships that come along and will never be forgotten. Simplice Tayou Tagne says his favorite memory was "the game against Brockton, I scored 4 goals." Scoring a goal is not only exciting, but its something a player will never forget.

"Carrying the NBHS logo on our chest is an honor."
-Rodrigo Defreitas

This year the soccer boys celebrated success by "winning the Southeastern Conference championship," which was captain Jacob Ramos' favorite memory.

Through all the wins, defeats, and memories these boys will never forget being apart of the soccer team and will be able to look back at the years with not only fulfillment but sadness as well. However there is no doubt that they made the school, their team, and coaches proud.

Parker Maranhas finishes his powerful swing, examining the distance of his shot. A veteran to the golf team, Maranhass says this year, "Felt more like a team, through playing everyday together we all bonded and became closer as a whole."

Ty Spencer follows through on his swing. He loves golf and might consider pursuing it in college: "I'm going to try. I'll probably be playing club, but it's definitely something I want to do."

Trying to get on the green, Junior Aden Silva carefully swings from the sand.

Hitting a Hole Golf in One

After a season of hard work and dedication, the New Bedford High School golf team can confidently say they put their all into every match. They tripled the amount of wins from last year and had five wins against different teams, some of whom they haven't beaten in the past. These boys worked hard over the summer and throughout the season to achieve their goals and be successful. In order to do so well Ty Spencer says "I was motivated by my parents because they've done whatever it takes to help me get better."

The golf team has been small the past few years with only eight kids but has grown to fourteen this year. Senior, Alex Rojop-Lux joined the golf team his senior year and says "it was an incredible experience for me because it was my first time playing a sport for NBHS and it was amazing to be part of team and I'll miss my teammates most." Senior Ty Spencer has been on the team since eighth grade and has fallen in love with the sport, playing over the summer and on weekends to improve his performance.

The golf team will certainly miss the seniors who have motivated them and helped them reach their potential. Junior Parker Maranh reflects on the last match of the season saying "It was the hardest match because the season is ending and I hated to see it go, also it was hard to accept the fact that it was our last match with the seniors." As the seniors graduate, golf will always be something they enjoy and continue to play so seniors remember to always shoot under par.

Glenda Coreas focuses on the ball and is ready to bump it over the net. "Sad, fun, enjoyable" are three words Coreas would use to describe her senior season.

Glenda Coreas, Morgan Correia, Nelsi Molina, Sa-Leigh Tetreault, and Germinale Tagne circle in front of the net to celebrate after a play.

Captain and libero Morgan Correia, serves the ball during the Whalers' game at Dartmouth High School. "My favorite part about being a Whaler has to be how connected everyone becomes in the athletics family," Correia says. "Every sport showing out for the others making sure the gym or field is always hype."

Sa-Leigh Tetreault reaches to hit the ball.

Can you dig it? Girls Volleyball

All season long, the girls volleyball team gave it their all, pouring their hearts into every bump, set, serve, spike, and dig. On and off the court, the team worked hard to strengthen their game. Practice often extended beyond the volleyball court; the girls sometimes would switch to doing Zumba before practice instead of circuits as a team-building activity. "It was fun it, it gave us good vibes and good cardio!" said Sa-Leigh Tetreault.

For the past four years, these seniors have worked hard to perfect their game, learn the sport, and have grown into a family. "I'm going to miss playing with the girls and the bond we had since most of us played together since freshman year," says Glenda Coreas.

With a record of 10-10 going into the MIAA state tournament, the underdog team beat North Attleboro in three sets, making it to the second round. "Once we won, it was such an amazing feeling because we proved everyone who doubted us wrong," said captain, Nelsi Molina. Molina adds that "We went in with everyone underestimating us thinking that we were going to lose because we barely made it into the playoffs and they were 4th seed and we were 11th." This truly speaks to the Whalers' determination and resilience.

Whether the volleyball team won or lost this season, the one thing that didn't change was their spirit. They fought hard through every game and remained a supportive and loving team no matter what.

What obstacles did you face this season? How did you overcome them?

"Having to adapt to a new coach, a different practice routine, and being new team leaders. We overcame it by stepping up and pushing no matter how hard it was."

- Destiney Torres

"There were a lot of doubts about us making playoffs this year with key players graduating last year but we all worked together as a team to make it there and show everyone we could play."

- Morgan Correia

Raina Grace, Omayra Saez, and Aliyah Jones end a cheer happily. Grace explains cheer has benefited her by “encouraging me to be more outgoing and spirited.”

Katrina Torres gets the crowd excited by shouting out a cheer. Torres states that cheer has helped her express her outgoing personality. “It helped me become more confident in my own skin and really not be afraid to be myself in front of people” says Torres.

Janessa Velasquez raises up a pom-pom while being balanced to inspire noise from the crowd.

Fall and Winter Cheer

Whaalers! What? Whaaalers! This years Lady Whalers cheer team is an especially energetic one that constantly supports our New Bedford High teams. Cheering for the football team during the fall season, and the basketball team during the winter season, they reignited Whaler pride to the next level. For many, this spirit of leadership is one of the reasons why they've kept cheering. "It helps me enhance the school atmosphere and have more fun," says Raina Grace.

After tough falls and long practices this group of cheerleaders got through all the tumbles, which is evident through their successes throughout competitions. Cheering through the jitters, the team's energy, moves, and collaboration earned them first place at Southeast Conference.

Their successes has much to do with the important role each of them serve for the team, including taking risk and performing stunts that require some falls before perfection. Janessa Velasquez explains that "being a flyer is super scary but I love the thrill of it."

sport it is, taking much strength, dedication and nerve to do well. After practicing four days a week, two hours each day, bonds were formed, even out of school these girls were best friends. "It gave me an opportunity to experience new things and make friends." says Kendra Himes. They support each other unconditionally like a team should, all while supporting the other Whaler teams on the field and court.

Girls Indoor Track

Whether in the hallways at school, outside during the winter, or in the gyms, nothing was able to stop the girls indoor track team from working hard to be the best they could be. The versatile team was comprised of sprinters, distance runners, jumpers, throwers, etc..

Through their hard work, the team grew extremely close. They would constantly push and support each other to be the best athletes they could be. This makes a team that this year's seniors will miss a lot. "I'm going to miss the family dynamic on the track team the most," says Olimpia Andrade, "I was so close with my teammates and they always made me laugh."

One special part of this season was Kennedy Johnson. The junior won the shot put event at the Massachusetts Division 1 State Championship. "It was like the all time high five. I was so supported by everyone which made it so great in every aspect and having the team by my side even though their season was over, I felt like a leader." says Johnson.

This is just one example of how driven the girls' team was, but this determined attitude characterized every member of the team. Senior, Sa-Leigh Tetreault says that she is inspired by "where I came from and the struggle to get to where I'm at today. I want to be better than my past and that drives me everyday!" Time and time again, the team put their perseverance on display, overcoming individual obstacles, and persevering tough events. This year's team and seniors have a lot to be proud of. With a shot at beating the school record next year, junior Flordan Bazile jumps over a hurdle. Bazile's lowest time to date is a 55 meter hurdle in 7.86 seconds.

Sophomore, Brice Santos Pires participates in the high jump, vertically jumping to twist and turn over the bar successfully.

Boys Indoor Track

Run, jump, sprint! This year's boys indoor team did all of the above to be their best. With Head Coach Tilton and assistant coaches Jess, Chantel, LeBlanc and Zhang guiding them in high jump, hurdles, sprinting, distance and throwing events, this fairly young Whalers team grew everyday. With only one consistent senior to lead them this season, Derek Arribada exemplifies the progress that comes from hard work over time as he says he's become "faster and stronger" over the past four years. Recognizing Arribada's hard work, sophomore Demetri Fontenelle says, "Even though there weren't many seniors, they were still a part of the team. We all encouraged each other and they will be missed next season."

Following a twelve hour practice schedule every week, some runners even devoted time after practice for extra work. Junior Flordan Bazile being one of them, nine times out of ten he would use his extended practice time working on extra block starts and more hurdles closely with coach Zhang. With a shot at breaking the school's hurdle record next season, that hard work paid off as his name was often heard being recognized over the morning announcements.

"When the gunshot goes off I don't worry about other lanes."

- Flordan Bazile

"When the gunshot goes off I don't worry about other lanes, just mine, like Tunnel Vision," says Bazile.

Needless to say, this team's talent was never weighed down by age and the group was extremely hard working. On the team, head coach Tilton says, "We had a lot of good performances throughout the season. Largely because our athletes supported each other along the way and enjoyed being around each other everyday. We fed off each other everyday to get better!"

Wrestling

This year has been an amazing year for the NBHS wrestling team. The team went undefeated (16-0) and achieved numerous goals both as a team and as individuals. Ethan Medeiros says his biggest accomplishment of the season was "winning the Division 1 South Sectional Championship as a team and as an individual I won it too. It made me feel like all that hard work was worth it." The Whaler pride beamed from these boys as they won the title while hosting the event at their own school.

The wrestlers practice tirelessly on learning and perfecting moves and techniques while focusing on how they can become better. The great accomplishments of the wrestlers is reflective of their hard work and dedication. Avant Cortes reflects on his four years on the team saying "my favorite moment was freshman year when I wrestled for the first time," and four years later him and his fellow senior teammates have improved so much. Wrestling is a sport that many schools do not offer, so since NBHS is fortunate enough to have a team, the boys take it very seriously and are invested in the sport.

Most importantly, the comradery developed amongst the wrestlers is irreplaceable. All of them can agree that they'll miss their teammates and coaches as they built such strong bonds. From early morning bus rides to late nights at tournaments, the team spent lots of time together and they cherished each moment. Nemesio Ferrer says he'll "miss the intensity, hard work, and dedication put into the sport but most of all having fun with my teammates." The discipline and skills developed on the team will remain with these boys as this chapter of their wrestling career comes to an end.

After sprinting her hardest and coming in first place, Ana Curry takes a cool down lap. "My team truly means everything to me. After five years of swimming for NBHS, I don't remember my times or places from every meet. What I do remember is the people cheering at the end of my lane during the 200 IM, the pure excitement I feel whenever a teammate out touches their opponent or swims a best time, the bittersweet tears that never end after senior night, and seeing the entire team come together and work hard and become the best swimmers they can be! I could not be more thankful to be part of such a strong, supportive, and loving group."

Girls Swimming

Swim fast, have good turns off the wall, don't breathe the first stroke off a turn, and leave it all in the pool. These are all phrases repeated to swimmers throughout the season that have become engraved in their minds and have helped them tremendously. NBHS hosted the first ever Southeast Conference Meet in which the girls swim team earned second place. Six girls swam at the states meet which was a testament to their perseverance throughout the season. Captain Ana Curry qualified for states in four events and says, "As I'm racing, I push myself and feed off the energy of the crowd and the competition."

The girls swim team has worked extremely hard to improve their individual times in different events and ultimately pull off many wins. Swimming is a unique sports that engages one's entire body and mind and requires immense discipline and dedication. Late nights at the pool do not deter these swimmers from working hard. Gabriela Serra says her favorite part about swimming is "the atmosphere on the pool deck, everyone really comes together and helps each other improve every single day."

While the girls have a passion for swimming, being on the team is so much more than that. These girls cheer on their fellow teammates in every single race and are constantly congratulating each other. Katherine Papas says "I love cheering and will truly miss walking up and down the pool cheering on Siera during her 500." Not only are they so supportive while at practice and in meets, but the friendships built extend beyond the pool. These girls worked extremely hard this season, and even though they're graduating, they leave with great accomplishments and having made amazing friends and memories.

Life in the Fast Lane

Boys Swimming

Through hours of practice in the pool and on the board, thousands of yards and hundreds of flip turns a day, these boys were dedicated. Not only were they swimming for themselves, they were swimming for their teammates, too. The group grew into a strong family, constantly pushing each other and cheering each other on. "I am going to miss cheering on my teammates" says senior, Adam Bentley.

At any meet, during any race, you can find a New Bedford swimmer at the side of the pool or at the end of the lanes, encouraging their teammates to swim fast. To diver, Mario Guerrero Martinez, the pool became a home to him. "I started in eighth grade and I love it and keep doing it because I've met some great people that keep me on the right track."

The regular season culminated at the first-ever SEC league meet hosted by the Whalers. The boys left everything in the pool for their last meet of the season.

Kiya Andrade reaches to catch the rebound and make a layup.

Kelsey Rezendes protects the ball from her defender, looking for a teammate to pass to. Rezendes says "My favorite moment was either hitting the game winning shot in the waning seconds to beat Brockton my senior year or Q's buzzer beater against Canton to keep our playoff hopes alive."

Shaylinn Ortiz dribbles down the court as the whalers transition into offense. Ortiz will miss her "teammates and coaches." She describes that the highlight of her season was "senior night and playoffs even though I didn't get much playing time. It was something I am going to remember forever."

Freshman, Vanessa Bucha prepares to make a shot and intently focuses on her aim.

Girls Basketball

Dribble, shoot, score! The girls basketball team has worked extremely hard to overcome obstacles and they constantly push forward to put the best version of themselves on the court. Jessica Borges Dias recalls that Bridgewater-Raynham was the most difficult game but no matter how down you are, don't give up." Despite the team being small, these girls pulled off many wins and worked collaboratively to achieve personal and team goals.

The seniors on the team have been playing basketball their whole lives and are truly dedicated to the sport. From playing this sport for so long, the athletes have gained many skills that have helped them to develop into a better athlete and better person. Basketball requires quick thinking and the ability to perform well under pressure. For captain Kelsey Rezendes, "Basketball has taught me how to face adversity. It's a game of mental toughness and throughout my four years, I really grew as a person in both those aspects."

Aside from working hard on the court, the girls basketball team developed friendships from the freshman. When a starting member of the team became unable to play due to medical reasons, a freshman stepped up to the plate and certainly rose to the occasion. The seniors will be deeply missed and Savannah Gordon says "they motivate us to work hard every day on the court and in school." As the seniors move on to college, they'll take with them everything they have learned from being a whaler basketball player.

How Much Pressure Do You Feel Taking a Shot?

"A lot, I feel nervous but I try my best."
- Kiya Andrade

"None. If I feel pressure I will miss the shot so I just live in the moment."
- Shaylinn Ortiz

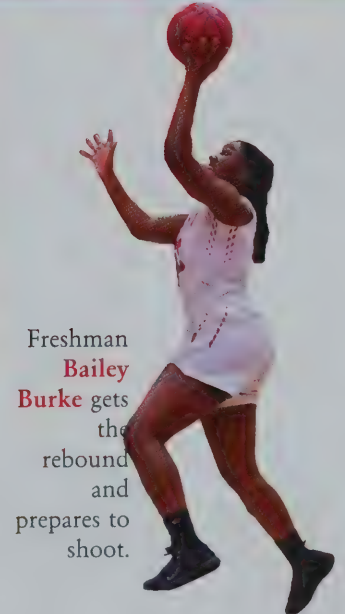

"A lot because you don't want to put the team down. But don't let the pressure hurt you."

Standing at the free throw line, David Abolarinwa focuses on the basket in hopes of making the perfect shot. To Abolarinwa, being a Whaler on the basketball team has "meant everything to be honest. I've built bonds with everyone on the team and I will keep them forever."

Carlos Lugo Sanchez jumps to shoot the ball. After a hard-worked season, Lugo Sanchez is most proud of "averaging 20 points per game."

Kobe Fonseca holds the ball close, looking to make the perfect pass.

Gabriel Valerio Figaro dribbles the ball down the court, fending off his opponent.

Shooting for Success

Boys Basketball

On and off the court, New Bedford's hardworking, boys basketball team put in the work. Whether it was at practice, on the court, or in the weight room, the athletes perfected their shot, got stronger, and overall, became a family. "My teammates are like brothers on and off the court, we have to know each other like the back of our hand," says Elijah Ribeiro. "We get on each other but it shows the passion and love we have for each other" Ribeiro follows up with.

For these seniors, basketball has been an important part of their lives since they were young. They've grown up playing basketball and for their final season, they weren't only playing for themselves, they were also playing for the ones who have supported them all of their lives. For example, Derek Baptiste plays for his younger brothers. "They want to be just like me and I want to do the best I can because they look up to me," says Baptiste. "I want to be a good role model to them."

The season was filled with lots of exciting highlights, but for Gabriel Valerio Figaro, the highlight of his season was the team's game against Burke, where they "all played together as a team." Their teamwork showed that if they all come together, they can do anything they put their mind to, whether it be keeping up with one of the top teams in the state or winning a game after being down for most of the time.

Whether it was for all four seasons or only one, these seniors can say that they made the most out of this basketball season at New Bedford High.

"My teammates are like brothers on and off the court."

What have you learned from playing at NBHS?

"I learned that hard work pays off and that if you want something you have to go and get it for yourself. I learned the meanings of team work and hard work."
- Elijah Ribeiro

"I've learned how to play as a team and I've learned how to take leadership."
- Carlos Lugo Sanchez

"I learned that you can't be afraid to fail because that's the only way to be successful."
- Kobe Fonseca

Sparkle in your Eye

Clubs & Activities

Throughout the years as we grow and mature, we become confident in what we are passionate about. At NBHS, imagination becomes reality as students get a sight for what outlets will help shine a light on their creative expressions. The clubs and activities of NBHS are a big representation of how students create the bigger picture of who they are and what they want to do with their interests and skills.

There is an immense number of clubs offered to every student, which caters to that person's strong suits or personalities. Whether it's being a part of a music group, the arts, or just a club organized around those with similar interest, opportunities are open to meet new people. "There are people around you that you don't know much about but when you do you get to connect with them in so many ways," says Krysta Orlowski.

For some, these clubs and activities allow new students to see the bigger picture of our school and "They made my first day very comfortable in a very opening environment."

- Madelynn Fensil

understand the bonds that are created through interest. Joining NBHS as a Senior, Madelynn Fensil was immediately welcomed by the D-Block students. "When I first got here the people in show choir were very friendly and they made my first day very comfortable in a very opening environment," says Fensil.

Most importantly, students within these clubs see the bigger picture of life; they are not concerned with their image being everything. The bigger picture is about never losing sight of who you are or what your purpose is in life. What makes being part of a club at NBHS so special is the fact that every creative expression is encouraged, as the entire community gets a view of the hard work and dedication that goes into putting on a production or event that highlights Whaler pride.

Letters to Sala

Fall Play

Set simultaneously in present day 2005 and flashing back to the 1940s, "Letters to Sala" tells the true story of Sala Garncarz, a woman held in seven Nazi labor camps over five years and the letters she wrote during this time. Writing back and forth to people outside the camps, Sala Garncarz smuggled over 350 letters between camps and kept them for fifty years before eventually giving them to her daughter, changing history based on her records about herself, those murdered in the Holocaust, and those who had no other records of existence.

Auditioning and beginning rehearsals in September, the cast and crew immediately got to work making this production as successful as it was. Rehearsing twice a week in September, October, and November, the cast dedicated over 12 hours a week on the play.

To portray their characters accurately, the incredible cast had to prepare for their roles. Cassandra Bergantim, who played Ala Gertner explained, "I had to do a lot of research for the sake of character development." For Jayden Lima, it was being able to portray a character on stage that was so exciting. "Being able to turn lines on a paper into real emotions and being able to make the audience feel things is something so powerful" says Lima.

"I had to do a lot of research."

Cassandra Bergantim

Backstage, the crew overcame any obstacles to prepare the stage for opening night. "A majority of the time it was smooth sailing, but there definitely were times that would really make or break the show and we were always able to work through them" says crew member Karla Valladares.

Overall, the cast and crew's months of work resulted in a great first drama performance in the updated auditorium.

By: Jesselynn David

With heavy emotion, Ann Kirschner, played by Ashley Cowles tells Sala, played by junior Laura Conde, that her mentor from the labor camps was killed in Auschwitz.

Sorting through the hundreds of letters smuggled through Nazi Gernamy, Makenna Calvao, Ashley Cowles, Jayden Lima, and Laura Conde share the stage.

Reciting her lines, Cassandra Bergantim perfectly embodies the endearing and nurturing role of Ala Gertner.

Passionately performing, Jakob Braz recalls the words of Harry Haubenstock. "Drama club has shown me never to be afraid to remain confident in pursuing what sets my soul on fire," said Braz.

1. Writing an email to their mother in the play, freshmen Makenna Calvao and senior Jayden Lima beg to keep Sala's letters in the family.
 2. Gathered around to show support to each other, Averi Lima, Britney Soares, Sara Cravo, and Jessica Goncalves Brito share a moment on stage.

Britney Soares reads one of Sala's letters as Blima. Soares said "Drama club is a family atmosphere that allowed me to be my true self."

Dancing under the Stars

It's the Saturday night before the Thanksgiving Day football game against Durfee and the Whalers dance away at Homecoming. Homecoming was filled with lights, music, dance circles, conga lines, photo shoots, and even crowd surfing. Over 500 Whalers gathered at the New Bedford High gym where they had a night to remember, dancing under the stars that sparkled above them. Hannah Martin loved seeing so many people there and noticed that "a lot of people were having a good time and the music was good."

The homecoming tradition started three years ago and it has become an event that everyone looks forward to. Homecoming isn't about just going to a school dance but it's about spending time with your friends, having fun, and making memories that will last a lifetime. Zelda Tillson reflects on her time at homecoming saying, "It's a memory I definitely won't forget because I went with friends and we went out to eat after and really bonded." This year, seniors could run for Homecoming king and queen. After covering the school with creative posters, Katrina Torres took home the crown as homecoming queen and Calob Jardin was crowned homecoming king.

"It's a memory I definitely won't forget."

- Zelda Tillson

The atmosphere of homecoming was incomparable to past years as the gym was filled with happiness, positive energy, laughs, and a sense of community. For seniors, this is their last ever homecoming and Fayth DeOliveira says, "I was hit with the realization that it was my last homecoming so I made the most of it." Senior year is the time to make memories, and homecoming was one of the first Senior year memories so don't forget that amazing night.

Homecoming King Calob Jardin, shares a dance with Homecoming Queen Katrina Torres. Torres describes how excited she was when she won saying, "I was very surprised because everyone was cheering the other candidate's name so I didn't expect to win."

Madison Murgado and Aysia Rodrigues are all smiles as they enjoy their last homecoming.

Kenira Mendes is in the center of the dance circle surrounded by her friends. She says the best part of the night was "dancing to Coronao."

Ashante Lopez, Leonora Alicea, Ismelda Suastegui, and Yireliz Concepcion Rojas pose for a picture in their stunning outfits. Concepcion Rojas says "homecoming was lit and I had lots of fun."

Brithley Arnoux had a great night with her friend, Anne Leyla Saint Paul. Arnoux says "my favorite part was when they crowned homecoming king and queen."

Nevaeh Ribeiro stuns in her black sparkle outfit as she moves her feet to the beat of the music.

The gym shakes as Whalers jump up and down to the beat of the songs. Carlos Lugo Sanchez records the moment and says he had the most fun "dancing with my friends."

Eric Leca, Derek Baptiste, Tyrek Williams, David Abolarinwa, Shahid Barros, and Anderson Medrano get ready to spend the night getting lost in the music and find themselves on the dance floor.

Hericles Teixeira Semedo shares a memorable dance with his date, Eline Correia, in the lively atmosphere of the gym.

Lost in the moment, Edmilson Baptista and Eliisa Vieira share a romantic dance as they hold each other close. "I loved seeing everybody having fun and it was an unforgettable night," Baptista said.

Spirit Runs Deep

Embracing each day and showing off their creativity, the senior class came together to celebrate spirit week. This year the themes were "Senior Citizen Day", "Inanimate Object Day", "Character Day", "Pajama Day", "Superhero Day", and "Red and White Day". Spirit week allows students to express their creativity and have fun. Although the task can be stressful, as it requires time and effort to plan and make a costume, the Senior class definitely took pride in walking down the halls and showing off their work.

One Senior who took pride in his costume was Anton Scurry for "Senior Citizen Day." Dressed as an old lady with a wig, dress, lipstick, and walker, Scurry owned the halls as he was gifted with a lot of laughs and compliments. "This was my favorite day, I felt very different, very goofy, and very hot" said Scurry.

The hours it takes to plan and create one's costumes is an aspect of spirit week that makes it so fun. While there "Being able to walk around in costumes and represent my pride as a Whaler was bittersweet and unforgettable!"

- Amanda Braga

were many students who went all out for spirit week, Amanda Braga surely stuck out and won the title of "Most Spirited". "My favorite days for spirit week were inanimate object day and character day where I dressed up as a vending machine and Peppa Pig. The time and money spent on these costumes was costly but it was well spent! Being able to walk around in costumes and represent my pride as a Whaler was bittersweet and unforgettable! I will always cherish these memories!" states Braga.

Overall, this year's spirit week was very exciting and unforgettable and the class of 2021 definitely have a challenge to top it next year.

By: Sabrina Amaral

Taylor Pimentel had a fun time dressing up as Post Malone for "Character Day" and surely put a lot of effort into her costume, from face tattoos to the crazy hair. Pimentel says, "Post Malone is my favorite artist and has been around for a while which is why I chose him."

Confused grannies Isis Rock and Jesselynn David break out the canes and cookies for "Senior Citizen Day."

On "Character Day," Leonora Alicea dressed up as a female Harry Potter to show her love for the Harry Potter Series.

Destiney Torres dressed up as a messy washing machine for "Inaminant Object Day". "It took me like 3 hours to make, but walking down the halls it made me happy to show off what I made," said Torres.

What was your favourite spirit week day?

1. Tiago Boia and Zelda Tillson dressed up as Elmo and Zoey from Sesame Street.
2. For "Character Day," Alana Almeida-Amaral dressed up as the Cookie Monster. "I liked character day because you get to see how creative everyone can get," said Almeida-Amaral.

Dressed up for "Pajama Day," Ashante Lopez looks comfortable in her pink onesie.

WHY THAT costume?

Madison Morgado was a toothbrush for "Inanimate Object Day." "My favorite thing about this day was being noticed and having people question what I was," said Morgado.

Celicia Acevedo dressed up as "Selena" for "Character Day". "I chose Selena because she's a legend and I want to keep her name alive as my favorite female artist," said Acevedo.

Lynsey Dasilva dressed up as a colorful christmas tree for "Inanimate Object Day." "I chose this costume because I was on crutches at the time," Dasilva said.

Jaina Hicks shows off her old age in the hallway before class. "My favorite part is having to uphold a specific character all day and it was fun to be able to see all the other student's reactions and mess around will my friends all day," said Hicks.

Erica Vieira celebrates "Senior Citizen's Day" with a nightgown and a cane.

Krysta Orlowski is wrapped up in her blanket for "Pajama Day." "I loved participating and seeing other costumes, it was very interesting and fun!" said Orlowski.

Dominique Toure dressed up as a stocking for "Inanimate Object Day."

Daniela Monteiro Azevedo and Eliane Marques dressed up as traffic lights for "Inanimate Object Day."

Dressed up in a wig, a dress, and lipstick, Anton Scarry celebrates "Senior Citizen Day."

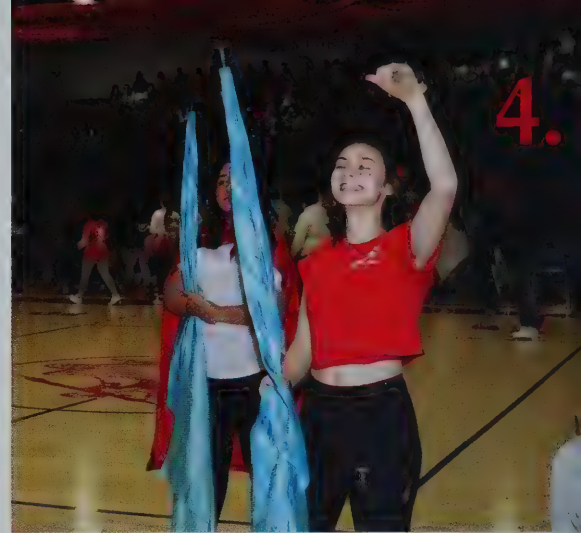

Aaliyah Maciel and Jayden Lima look comfortable in their pajama pants and slippers for "Pajama Day." "My favorite thing about spirit week was that no matter what our differences are, we can all come together for a week and laugh and show our school spirit," said Lima.

1. A sea of red surrounds the gym floor and students watch the rally's events unfold. Senior, Taylor Pimentel says that her favorite part was the slide show of pictures of the seniors at the end. "It was a real bittersweet moment wrapped up our senior year memories well."

2. Steven Brum plays a guitar solo in front of the band as a part of their show "Another Brick in the Wall" for the whole crowd.

3. Holding the class of 2020's assistant principal, Mrs. Rezendes on his shoulders, Eric Dosenberg dances front of the senior class.

4. Ashley Cowles performs with the color guard and band their empowering field show for the entire gymnasium. "It's always a really great opportunity to show the school what the band has to offer" says Cowles. "I think it's a moment where a lot of people finally understand the spirit we have here. They align with our energy and really resonate with us as their band."

5. Katherine Papas, Ana Curry, Raquel Reis, and Kaeleigh Sousa are decked out in Whaler fashion.

The Whalers' cheerleaders hype up the crowd at the beginning of the pep rally.

Can't Hide Our Pride!

Every year, the end of New Bedford High School's spirit-filled week is marked with pep rally. The entire school (of five different grades) pack the gymnasium bleachers. Dressed from head to toe in red and white Whaler gear, 2000+ students cheer in anticipation for the rally's kick-off. From walking a goat across the floor to symbolize the class of 2020's GOAT (greatest-of-all-time) status to competitions that get everyone yelling and on their feet, a lot makes this day one of the most exciting of the school year.

For all seniors, it was an amazing final pep rally. "It was fun to show school spirit and remember the last four years of pep rallies and memories with friends" says Jacob Giesta. One of the highlights for them was winning the most spirited at the rally. They were able to score points against the other classes by winning games, being the loudest, having the most spirit links, etc..

To Kaymone Barboza winning the last rally "was really fun and amazing for the whole class."

"It's a part of us and what makes us Whalers."
- Gabriela Serra

Pep rally

is truly a day where the entire school is one. "I'll miss everyone coming together to cheer on the football team and being proud to be a Whaler," says Gabriela Serra, "This is the one day we are all together and are thankful for everyone around us. It's a part of us and what makes us Whalers." One thing that is true for all of New Bedford High School's students is that everyone will be a Whaler for life. White and red, until we're dead!

By: Ana Curry

How would you describe the atmosphere at pep rally?

"I felt true Whaler pride!"
- Eliane Marques

"The energy at the rally was amazing! It was the best of all four years!"
- Karime Mascarenhas

"This year's pep rally was the best one I've been to."
- Taylor Cummings

FAVORITE part of the pep rally?

"My favorite part was when the class of 2020 brought out the goat." - Allison Thorburn

"All the spirit we have! Red and white forever." - Aliza Muniz

"The teachers' dance." - Michael Charpentier

Owen Tarpey, Ethan Demelo, Adam Bentley, Ty Spencer, Derek Baptiste, Cameron Sylvia, & Eric Leca show off their senior spirit.

Janessa Velasquez is raised up by Katrina Torres, Raina Grace, & Jayrica Perry, while Adriana Duran, Jacelina Goncalves, Aliyah Jones, & Thaliah Barros cheer loud for the whole Whaler community.

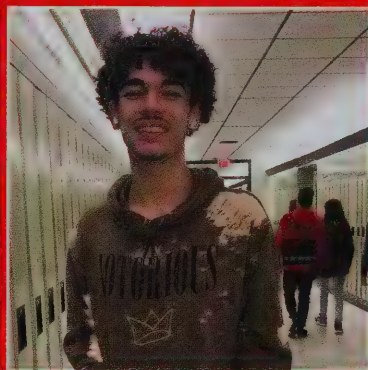

The senior football boys dance in their last pep rally before the big game at Durfee.

Nevaeh Confar, Traacy Saint-Louis and Dakota Lobo hold up Omayra Saez in a half stunt. Confar says, "I'll miss the rush of it all and the anxiety but ultimately pulling it all off in the end."

"I definitely loved hyping up the crowd and getting them going."

- Jadyn Gonzalez

"My favorite part of pep rally was when they sprayed Ms. Rezendes with silly string." - Hannah Martin

"My favorite rally of the four years of high school was last year. The dances were fun."

2. Quarterback Ethan Medeiros sprints towards the end zone.

The cheerleaders cheer on the football team as they defeat Durfee.

Karla Valladares enjoys her last time playing trumpet for the football team saying, "it gave me a sense of closure towards my high school marching band season. It was definitely a bittersweet moment to know I won't ever be on the field again but also gave me excitement to be able to see the underclassmen for the years to come."

Beat Durfee Eat Turkey

Senior linebacker Calob Jardin with the ball on a Durfee tackle. Jardin loves New Bedford High and says that he will miss the team to play in the Thanksgiving Day game because it will be a going on for so many years.

Every year on Thanksgiving morning the New Bedford Whaler football team plays against the Durfee Hilltoppers. The game is a tradition that every Whaler looks forward to. The rainy conditions and cold temperature never stops the Whalers from heading out to the game to support. They chanted and cheered, clapped and stomped, as New Bedford rose to victory.

This was a sad moment for the football players who played their last game ever. Senior Alberto Ramos reminisces on his football career saying, "After spending four long years of work, time, and sweat, it was pretty sad knowing it's all over." This day marked the end up many Whaler football careers, but some will move on to play in college as well. Even some cheerleaders may continue in college, like Chasity Pacheco who says "high school cheer was very fun and a great experience."

One of the best parts of attending the game is watching the Whaler

- Alberto Ramos

Marching Band's field show. The band was amazing as they changed formations on the field all while producing a beautiful sound. The audience stared in awe as they performed.

For the seniors, this was the last Thanksgiving day game but it will never be forgotten and students can always come back to watch. Sa-Leigh Tetrault speaks for us all when she says "I'm a little sad because I grew up watching football and cheering." Always remember that once a Whaler, always a Whaler.

Mr. Whaler

Back to the 80s

Mr. Whaler was a night to remember for both the participants and audience. This whaler tradition hasn't been put on for the past few years but the class of 2020 brought it back. The boys went back to the '80s and performed a group dance to a medley of '80s hits. The show consisted of four components: casual wear, swimwear, talent, and formal wear. Adam Bentley says his favorite phase of the competition was talent "because I got to show off my 'art skills' and watch the other contestants perform their acts." The judges had a difficult decision to make but Mario Guerrero Martinez was crowned Mr. Whaler 2020 and was immediately congratulated by his competitors who all huddled together and jumped in excitement.

For many of the boys this was their first time on stage in front of an audience but they were naturals. Owen Tarpey says "We were just really excited the whole time and had a lot of energy" describes his tie on stage as "awesome, a feeling I never felt before. All of the other contestants and I thought we were going to be nervous but once it started we weren't at all. We were just really excited the whole time and had a lot of energy." All of the boys added elements of surprise, goofiness, and fun to their performance which made the show both exciting and comical.

The show required weeks of preparation and for many of the boys the rehearsals were the best part of the whole experience. They all got to hang out with their friends, help each other with their talents, and have fun. Luis Jackson De Luna says "I liked everything from the dance to the moves to being with my friends. You only live once so you'll never get Mr. Whaler back in life."

Mario Guerrero Martinez takes his first walk as Mr. Whaler 2020.

Guerrero Martinez says, "It feels good that I won, I never thought I was going to win but for me, all the people in the show won too because we all had good talents."

From the Editors

When I was asked to be the yearbook editor I definitely didn't understand just how much work goes into putting the book together. Creating the yearbook has given me the opportunity to look back on our class and all of the memorable moments everyone has had for the last four years. Besides going crazy uploading pictures and rushing around the school to find students and teachers, it's been one of the best things about senior year. I loved working with Ms. Miller and am proud of what the staff and I have created for not only ourselves, but for all of us graduates as well.

Yours Truly,

Jesselynn David, Editor-in-Chief

I really enjoy being in Yearbook because it's given me the opportunity to help in a way that benefits everyone. I love to see the collaboration of so many different people and how these little projects come together in the end to create this book of memories for everyone to enjoy. The way stressing over deadlines helps you to meet new people and appreciate each others dedication is, well, awesome!

Sincerely,

Harrison Leahy, Managing Editor

Being a part of yearbook was a journey I didn't know I was starting, but it's been a stressful, funny, and a prideful journey that I would do all over again. All the hard work and time that goes into the process is rewarded when myself and my classmates are able to look back at the memories, and events we've made throughout high school. As secretary, my goal was to make sure everyone was included in the yearbook so they would be able to look back on their high school experience years later. This year creating the yearbook was truly an experience that I will never forget and love.

Sincerely,

Sabrina Amaral, Secretary

I wanted to be a business manager because I'm really good in math so making deposits or calculating funds sounded like the job for me. I love being in charge of things and this role gave me the opportunity to be authoritative. This position gave me the chance to plan fundraisers with others but still be independent when doing things such as making deposits. I am an outgoing person so going to different companies and fundraising was something I was always up for.

Sincerely,

Isis Rock, Business Manager

Designing, creating, and writing are all things I love. I wanted the opportunity to put my skills to work so I joined yearbook. I knew yearbook would be a lot of work and it was but I enjoyed every moment. From rushing around to get quotes to spending hours designing the perfect spread, I learned to thrive under pressure. Being the copy editor allowed me to strengthen my writing skills and relive my amazing high school moments along the way. I wish my fellow graduates the best and hope the yearbook serves as a way to reminisce on their high school career because we all know it went by in the blink of an eye.

Sincerely,

Katherine Papas, Copy Editor

An INSIDE Look

It has been a year of struggle and reward within the yearbook staff. The struggles of making sure every deadline is met whether it's your page that is incomplete or your peers. The staff has worked collectively to make sure that progress is being made at its greatest potential. However, all these struggles come with reward as the class reflects on all the accomplishments and the setbacks that were conquered. "Being able to showcase my classmates memories that will be able to be seen forever is a rewarding and pretty cool feeling," said Mallory Baptista.

A sense of pride is developed when looking back at the pages that will be read and seen among all your friends, teachers, and the rest of the student body. This class became an outlet for students to express their creativity, make new friends, and embrace their unique qualities. "Being a part of this class has helped strengthen my writing skills and expand my creativity. I also was able to become friends with people that I would pass by in the hallway but was too timid to talk to. I gained a lot from my experience within yearbook," said Marissa Sebastiao.

Learning to work under pressure has become the most important lesson within this experience, it is something that we can carry into our individual endeavors. "Yearbook has taught me to expand my creativity and become more focused on my time management skills," said Janessa Velasquez.

Through all the ups and downs of yearbook comes the gratitude that stems from being a part of something so huge within your four years of high school. The yearbook leaves behind a legacy that you can look back on one day and say I created something so special for my fellow graduates.

Lydia Perez works intently on her yearbook spread before her deadline.

On her computer, Marissa Sebastiao, types away working on her faculty divider. "Seeing the finished product and being proud that its accomplished is the best thing about yearbook," says Sebastiao.

Katherine Papas edits a page to perfection before moving on to the next, "I love being able to use my imagination to make a spread that is exciting and unique," states Papas.

Ana Curry completes and submits her volleyball page with excitement. "I really liked being able to create something special for all the athlete's and students to remember their season and high school," states Curry.

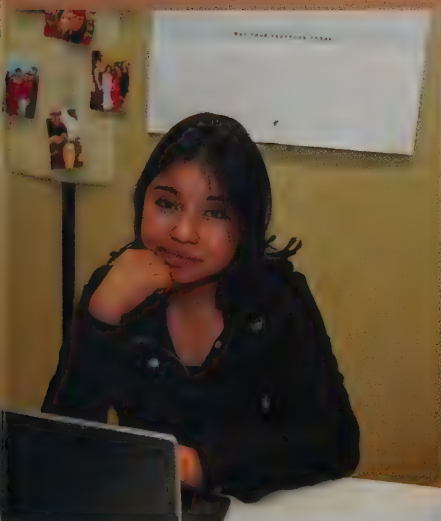

Business manager Isis Rock files the questionnaire papers. "I'm good with numbers and it gives me a chance to be authoritative, especially dealing with money," states Rock.

1. Issac Tavares and Mallory Baptista look over their page and put in the final touches together.

2. Alberto Ramos works on creating the football spread with pride and effort. "My favorite thing about being in yearbook is the experience I get to have with my classmates," says Ramos.

Carmen Garcia Riz works hard on putting in the baby pictures on to her spread.

Focused Michael Charpentier works on creating questions to ask his peers around the school. "My favorite thing about yearbook is going to find out what people like and are interested in," says Charpentier.

Jazz Combo

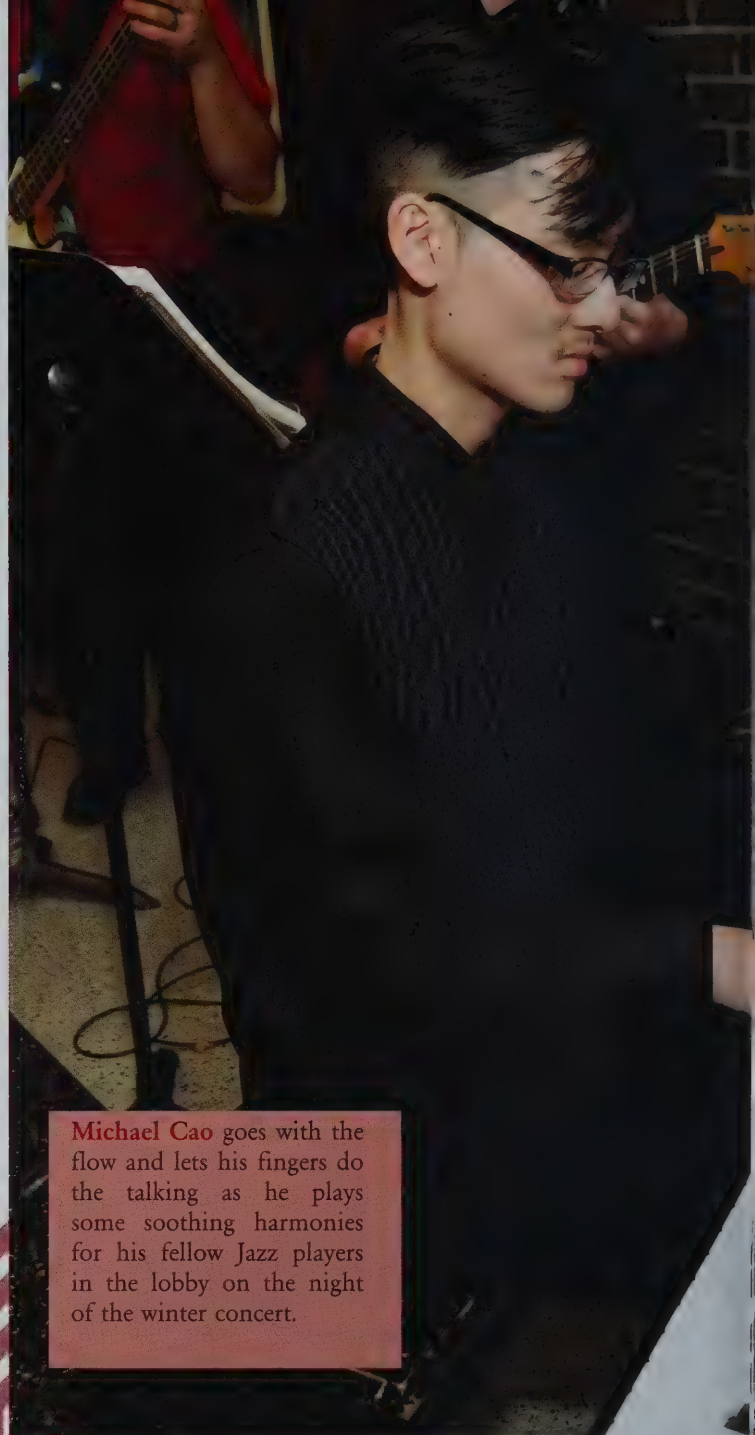

JAZZ

Band & Combo

The New Bedford High School Whaler Jazz Band and Combo are advanced, auditioned musical group with students who have played their instrument for two years or more. We play different styles of improvised music such as swing, funk, rock, latin, and vocal jazz. In Jazz Combo, these styles are played in small ensemble settings, and in Band, music also includes traditional "big band" settings. In Combo, instruments traditionally include one or two wind instruments, as well as a rhythm section consisting of bass, guitar, piano, and drum set. In Band, Instruments traditionally include trumpets, trombones, saxophones, as well as a rhythm section consisting of bass, guitar, piano, drum set, and percussion.

"It's rewarding because it brings students together and creates friendships that are unique to Jazz Band."

- Steven Brum Jr.

Michael Cao goes with the flow and lets his fingers do the talking as he plays some soothing harmonies for his fellow Jazz players in the lobby on the night of the winter concert.

Ashley Cowles

sings as a part of the Jazz Band. "It's a style of music that, while unconventional, is incredibly rewarding and enriching to practice. We're lucky to have such fantastic Jazz instructors here," said Cowles.

Nya Santos begins her chill jam session in the lobby with her fellow band mates for Winter Concert.

Nicholas Normandin delivers an exemplar trumpet solo for his fellow students and attendees at the winter concert.

March to Victory

From broken reeds to sore arms from their heavy instruments, the New Bedford High School Marching Band has been through it all, but they'd do it all again. They always put in full effort to master their pieces and give the best performance they can. When the band performs, the audience is in awe because the NBHS band is filled with a talented group of kids who come together to create beautiful music.

The musicians work very hard while loving it all the same, and this is especially true for Karla Valladares. "It's almost a bittersweet feeling, all my 4 years I never thought it would come to an end. Now that we are all here it's a crazy feeling and I definitely do not regret being in band all this time," says Valladares. Band isn't just students plying instruments, it's about sharing their time and interests and creating memories. "I will most certainly cherish all my memories I've made in band," Valladares concludes.

Band has always been a special place for these kids. Whether it be the crazy bus rides to competitions or the stressful late rehearsals to prepare for competitions, they always did it together. It's hard to imagine their lives without it, yet they welcome the unknown future with open arms, because band has definitely prepared them for it.

Guard team that adds such an amazing flare to the band performances. "It's insane to think that I've been here for such a short period of time, and I already have to face leaving it behind," says Color Guard Captain Ashley Cowles. "Although it's sad, I don't at all regret my time here. I've learned a lot about myself in the process and will take those lessons with me once I'm gone," concludes Cowles. These wise words definitely sum up the emotions of the best of the New Bedford High School Marching Band.

After hours of practice and perfecting of their voices, New Bedford High's chorus program shared their passion with the world at the annual winter concert. The four choral groups that NBHS offers are: Concert Chorale, SATB Show Choir, Jazz Choir, and Treble Chorus. Each group took the stage, performing a collection of beautiful melodies and winter classics.

Not only did the groups' hard work help them grow as singers and dancers, but they also built a family-like bond. This close bond fostered a supportive and creative environment that this year's seniors will miss a lot. "[I'm going to miss] the family we became throughout the year and watching each other grow and progress as performers" says senior,

Madison

Morgado.

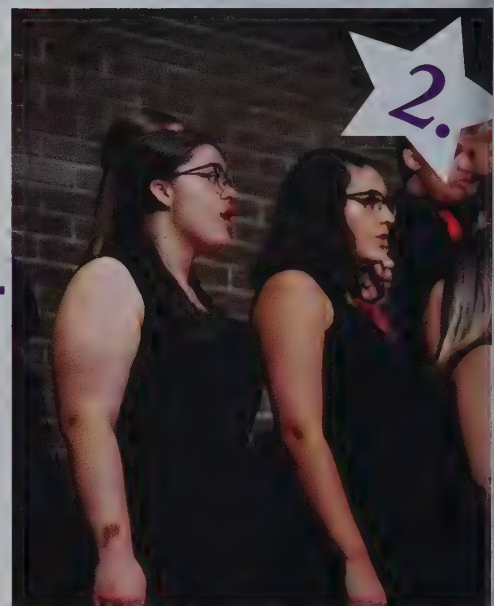

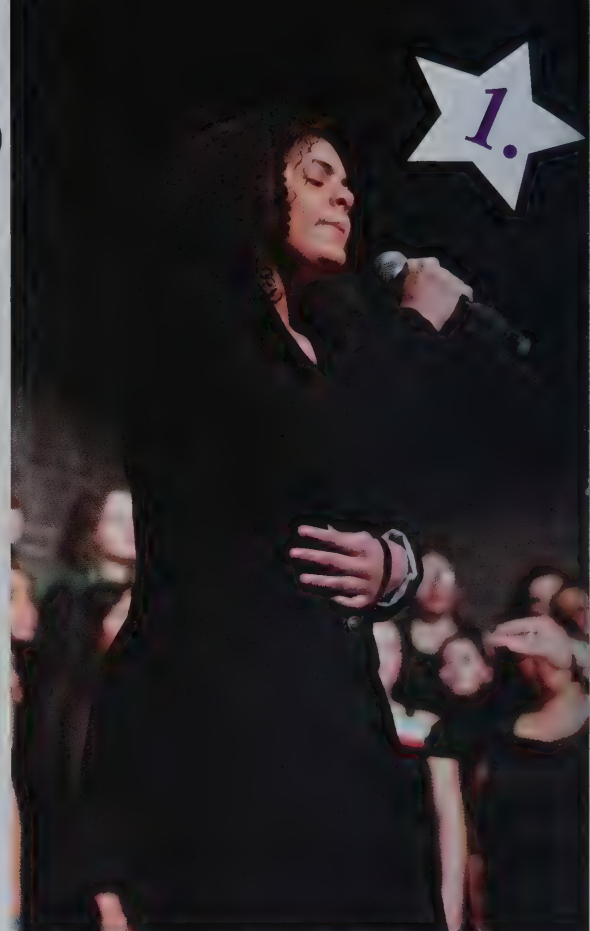

These dedicated vocal students practice daily, working hard on their songs and dances. They truly have a lot to be proud of. For example, senior, Evemarie Rodriguez is most proud of "learning all of the dances."

The vocal music department at NBHS also teaches important life lessons on and off the stage. It has taught many students the importance of friendships and has sparked the love of performing within them. "Show Choir has taught me that family within show choir isn't just something you can trace on a tree," says Kayla West, "And I've also learned the magic of performing and what it feels like to run off stage after a receiving a standing ovation."

For all of the graduating members, being a part of the chorus will always be remembered. Their musical careers will most likely progress but seniors, never forget your roots at NBHS.

By: Ana Curry

The SATB show choir finishes their performance at New Bedford High School's annual winter concert, beaming for the audience. Tiago Boia, who kneels at the front of the group, says that as the show carried on, "I had this weird feeling that I couldn't really pick up what it was. By the end I realized that it was the last time I'd ever do a winter performance, which kind of blew my mind. It inspired me to do things I'd never thought of doing and meant that this is your last shot, so make it count."

1. Brooklynn Perez sings her heart out during her solo.

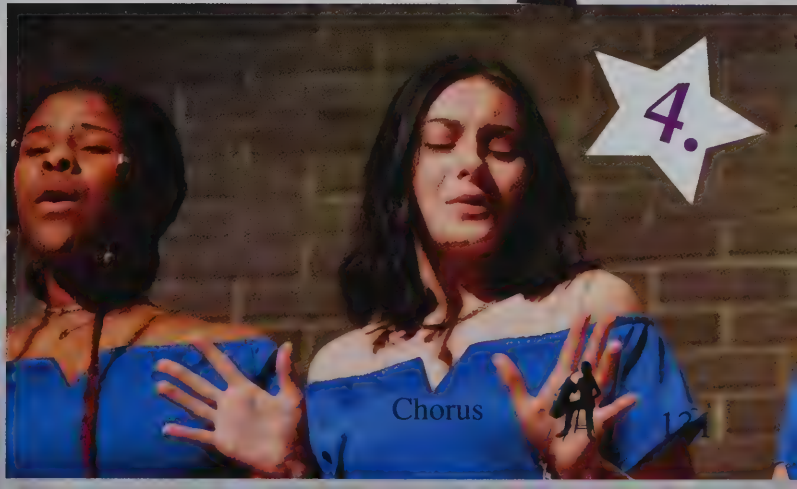

2. During the chorus's piece, Jayden Lima and Fayth DeOliveira sing side by side, in perfect harmony. "[Chorus] has helped me become more confident at singing in front of people and it helped me find my true voice" says DeOliveira.

3. After lots of hard work, the New Bedford High School chorus is ready to share their music with the audience.

4. Ashley Cowles and Britney Soares wow the audience with their beautiful voices alongside the jazz choir. To Cowles, her favorite part about being in the group is "the chemistry! There's something so intimate about the little space we share and what we create for others."

Zelda Tillson dances and sings as a part of the show choir's performance.

Cadet's ATTENTION JROTC

Present arms, orders arms, about face, march! For JROTC members, this phrase and many other commands have been imprinted in their minds since freshman year. Members learn different commands and their meanings for everything they do as part of preparation for their shows. Their hard work certainly paid off when they won third place in the 2019 Comal unarmed division Governor's Cup.

Joining JROTC is a choice that takes commitment. Some students had a passion to be in the army since day one. "I have family members who were in RO which influenced me to enlist in the army after high school," said Daish Parsons. This group prepared students mentally, physically, and emotionally for their future, army or not.

This year was a particularly important year in JROTC because it's a JPA year. JPA is an inspection that is done every three years to determine if they deserve honor unit with distinction. The dedicated cadets created a PowerPoint for a continuous improvement project, in preparation for JPA. From earning medals, to showing off their uniforms in school on Wednesdays, to winning different competitions, each year has sparked new inspiring stories. For senior and Battalion Commander, Yireliz Valentin, JROTC helped her grow as a person. "I was super shy when I was a freshman and now I'm comfortable talking in front of all 180 of the cadets," said Valentin. As they leave high school and their second family, there are so many things the students will be able to take from this wonderful opportunity. Junior Seth Silveira will miss the Seniors and says "I wouldn't feel prepared for next year if it wasn't for them." Now the Seniors leave with a foundation set for a bright future ahead.

By: Isis Rock & Katherine Papas

"In JROTC, I learned that nothing is ever what it seems and to always be prepared for the unexpected. Hard times will wash away with hard work." - Makaila Hinds

What is Your Favorite Team?

"Raiders because it's health and physically challenging."
- Leonora Alicea

"Exhibition because it was fun but physically and mentally tiring"
- Daish Parsons

"Physical Training because I like to work out."
- Katherine Sorto Machado

On a beautiful, sunny November day, JROTC Seniors Daish Parsons, Dev Patel and Yireliz Valentin lead their company in the Veterans Day Parade. Valentin says "It was a great experience seeing the crowd always impressed by our appearance." The students truly represented their school and program in a positive way.

Benjamin Lobo and Evin Bapties have their heads held high as they confidently carry the NBHS flag through the streets of New Bedford along the route of the Veterans Day Parade.

Leonora Alicea marches in sync with the other cadets while debuting her medals.

What lessons did you learn from JROTC?

"I learned that being motivated by other cadets to do what you can't do is the best thing in life."
- Samira Santos

"I learned to have more self confidence and how to be a better leader and contributing member to society."
- Alex Rojop-Lux

"I learned that emotional intelligence and teamwork are the biggest parts of JROTC."
- Dev Patel

- Jarod Blanchette

Environmental Club

Row 1: Eline Correia, Danica Abeyta, Daniela Monteiro Azevedo, Ms. Luogameno. Row 2: Daniel Abeyta, Eliane Marques, Ms.White.

In Environmental Club, we strive to be the change we seek in the world. Our goal is to empower young people to be healthy and grow their own food. Students get the experience of how to plant, care for, farm, and pick vegetables, herbs, fruits, and any plant that can be grown in the New Bedford area. We believe that it's important to care for the earth because future generations are relying on us.

"I joined for the experience."

- Daniel Abeyta

Gay Straight Alliance

Row 1: Amanda Goodwin, Bonnie Morgan, Janelis Rivera. Row 2: Brooklin Henriksen, Roberto Narvaez Natal, Ms.Langis, Seleena Talavera,

The Gay Straight Alliance is a LGBTQ+ support group that truly emphasizes equality & anti-bullying. Students who are straight allies may come to meetings. Students are able seek advice about LGBTQ+-related topics or problems that are going on in their lives. As a family, we help each other along the way in individual struggles.

"GSA is a place to discuss issues in our community, a place where people feel safe."

- Amanda Goodwin

The Great Outdoors Club provides activities that are meaningful and educational. Students that are involved in the club gain an increase in respect for their environment as well as an understanding of their stewardship towards our Earth. By becoming involved in activities such as camping, climbing, white water rafting, and outdoor community related activities, participants are exposed to nature and increase their understanding of leadership, service, social activities, fitness and citizenship, which encourages the development of the whole person.

"From white water rafting and camping at Zoar to hiking up Canon mountain, I have made some of my favorite high school memories through the Great Outdoors Club with a group full of my best friends!"

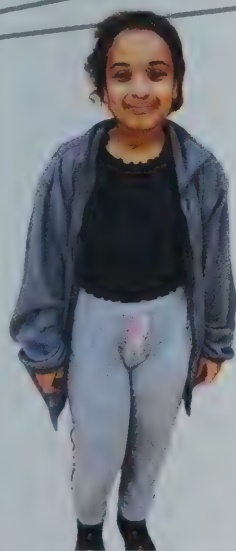

- Ana Curry

Eye catching

Advertisements

Being a senior at NBHS is an eye-opening experience that inevitably comes to an end, but can be revisited in captured photographs in our 2020 yearbook. The look back down memory lane of cherished moments would not be possible without the support of local advertisers, family members, students, and community supporters.

Our community is full of supporters who have provided us the opportunity to have the fun moments and accomplishments that we achieve during these years. Geovani Alvarado knows what it is like to have someone there to ensure that not all obstacles have to be setbacks; he expresses the kind of support system that kept him going especially during the most important year that is senior year, "If I had to choose someone who has been there for me it would definitely be Mr. Nagayoshi, mostly because at times when I thought about giving up and lost all motivation for school, he was always there to motivate me and push me to do better."

"My parents are my biggest inspirations in life because I see how they are such hardworking and loving people. I just aspire to be like them."

- Arlene Pineda

When going through high school, you often find yourself impacted by the people you surround yourself with, and this does not only apply to school. Arlene Pineda finds some of her inspiration outside of school: "My parents are my biggest inspirations in life because I see how they are such hardworking and loving people, that I just aspire to be like them when I grow up." With the support system and inspiration given by the people within our community, we are able to overcome anything that comes our way and achieve our goals. Bruce Piche, his biggest achievement was "having the motivation to complete high school." The pride in this accomplishment follows us long after high school as we move on to creating new experiences and memories.

We are proud of the man you have become, and we know that there's nothing that you cannot do in the future.

We love you, Peanut.

Love: Mom, Dad, Alisha & Clayton

Dear Claire,

It seems like only yesterday that you were a little toddling redhead, growing flowers in buckets in Waltham or giving presentations on Amazonian snakes and birds in Quito. How quickly you've become the thoughtful, compassionate, intelligent young woman that you are now. We are so proud of you and look forward to walking with you as you continue on your journey in college and beyond.

We love you very much and are so very proud!
Dad, Mom & Isabel.

To those who endured me through AP Sem & Lit: You've pushed me more than any other class. Thanks for being an inspiration.
-Mr. Nagayoshi

A huge shout out to all our wonderful SA students: Avery, Cady, Carlos, Cole, Israel, Josiah, Kaylee, Kelly, Nicholas, Nelson, Paige, Patrick, Raul, and Santos. Your ever well wisher, Mr. Sean

Sabrina, Rico, & Raph:
It has been an absolute pleasure getting to know you & watching you grow. I could not be more proud of the people you are & I am certain that a future filled with happiness and fulfillment awaits all of you. But before you go, could you just run this to the office for me?
Love, Mrs. Grande

To my 2020 Yearbook Staff, You've shown such enormous patience, compassion, & grit during all the ups and downs of this year. I am so proud to have worked along side you and to know you all better. So much love to you.
-Miller

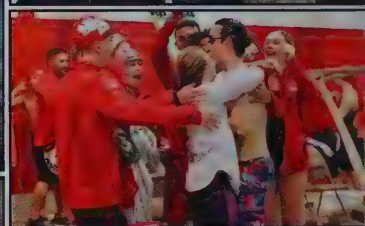

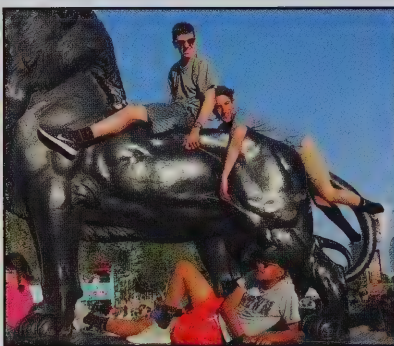

Madisyn,

Words cannot express how proud we are of you. Inside and out, you are a beautiful person and we are so proud you are ours. Thank you for always being you. We love you MORE!

In Memory Of

Rachel Jupin

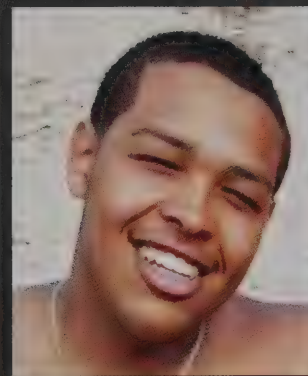

January 29, 2020

"For me, my job as a teacher was never a job."

Ms. Rachel Jupin could not have been more dedicated to New Bedford High School. She served as a class advisor, a member of the School Council, the Book Club advisor, and the Ambassador's Club advisor as well as teaching many courses including Women in Literature, College Writing,
AP Literature, and ELA 12. She attended countless sporting events, theatrical productions, concerts, and senior events.
If her students were involved, she found a way to be there. She also was beloved by her colleagues and friends.
Ms. Sagawoshu remembers her with immense fondness, "Rachel had a tough exterior, but a soft emotional core whose love for students and teaching knew no bounds. Her resilient spirit and passion for the profession was infectious, and inspired me to grow into the teacher I am today. RIP Rachel. A dear colleague, close friend, and my New Bedford mom." She held her students to a high standard and never let them forget it, but she also built an unforgettable relationship with them.

"Rachel's dedication to her students was second to none. Her standards were high and unwavering, and so was her love for them. Her students will forever appreciate what she taught them and how she loved them," Ms. Rodrigues says. Ms. Jupin will forever be a part of the legacy of the Whaler Family, and for every single faculty member and student who knew her, she will never be forgotten.

In Memory Of

Paul Collazo Ruiz

October 19, 2019

"Gone but never forgotten. R.I.P. to an amazing young soul, you'll forever be missed. We love you."

Destiney Forbes

"As I walk across that stage I'll have you in my heart, we will graduate together and grow together. I will always love and cherish you. Always and forever."

Nayelite Garcia-Rodriguez

EYES up ahead

From wanting to skip that one English test, to wishing we had to write just one more essay. From dreading having to change for gym, to wishing we could spike that volley ball just one last time. Certainly a lot has changed throughout high school, but most of us wouldn't change a thing.

As our journey through the 2019-2020 school year comes to a close, we like to look back at all our great memories and bonds we formed throughout the last four years. It is more than astounding to look back at our freshman selves and to see what bright and amazing young men and women we have all become. We all experienced it all differently, having our own special moments or favorite times to keep with us, "My favorite out of the four years is Junior year," says Hallie Boutin. Within these four years comes those moments special to us, such as certain classes or those late night talks with a best friend.

"I'm going to get my bachelors and then go to med school for Cardiology"
- Ludgie Souffrant

It's true, value of friendship. From first time conversations to long talks late at night, it's these little things that speak volumes and help us grow as people. Friendship is certainly one piece of high school we will carry with us forever. "My friends helped me get through tough times and made school feel like they passed in minutes instead of hours," says
Nicholas Eichman, a fellow 2020 Whaler.

As we take these friendships with us into the adult world, we now begin our lives, finding ourselves and what the future will hold. "I'm going to get my bachelors and then go to med school for Cardiology," says Ludgie Souffrant, a 2020 Whaler who's ready to welcome whatever the future holds in store. As we keep our eyes up ahead, we will remember to look back at all our high school memories.

Crimson Log Colophon

The Crimson Log Staff would like to extend our sincerest gratitude to Mr. and Mrs. Maré and the staff of Maré Studios & Gallery for their help in creating the 81st volume of the Crimson Log. Mr. Nelson Maré took the portraits and pictures featured throughout the book.

The New Bedford High School yearbook was created by the fifteen- student staff in class and after school from September 2019 to April 2020. The staff was led by Editor-in-Chief Jesselynn David, Managing Editor Harrison Leahy and Copy Editor Kathryn Papas, along with Secretary Sabrina Amaral and Business Manager Isis Rock, working closely with their adviser Ms. Miller.

The book is 8 1/2 x 11 inches. The cover uses process color lithography and gloss lamination. Inside, each page is printed in full color on premium quality 100 pound gloss stock.

The staff designed layouts on Dell laptop computers, using eDesign to make the pages of the yearbook. The cover was designed with the help of Ms. Rivera and produced in eDesign.
